Tech that encourages active aging

Get residents up and moving to improve physical well-being.

- No menu necessary. Pens, erasers, and touch do exactly what you would expect, making it easy for residents to find confidence in expressing themselves.
- Lean on us. Palm reject technology means seniors can use a hand to support themselves on the board without causing interference.
- Uplevel the interaction. SMART displays with Tool Explorer support fine motor skill work with even more pens to choose from, plus stamps such as emojis for well-being check-ins.
- Easy access to games, encouraging residents to move around.
- Do it your way. SMART displays recognize more than just fingers and pens, encouraging fun and movement as residents interact in a way that works for them.

Meaningful interaction for everyone

Tool Explorer

Open up a world of communication to every resident. Easy-to-grip physical stamps are even accessible to those with dexterity or language limitations.

Digital Manipulatives

Motivate your residents to get up and moving with interactive objects to drag, drop, rotate, or ink over. Encourage games, artistic expression, and social interaction at the board for your residents.

Ad-free YouTube

SMART's embedded YouTube player allows residents to scan and search for videos by touch right at the big panel. Videos do not include confusing follow-on content so viewers stay focused and engaged.

Keep your residents engaged and inspired.
